VITALAN ANTISEPTIC CATTLE OINTMENT

DESCRIPTION

VITALAN is a new concept in udder ointments. Tasman has utilised the concepts of cosmetic chemistry and skin science and applied them to the development of VITALAN

Research over the decade has shown that if certain vitamins are applied to the skin they will be absorbed into that area, and a locally high concentration of vitamins can be achieved compared to an equivalent oral dose. The high dose of vitamins that VITALAN achieves in the skin will lead to soft healthy udders. The better the skin tone, the less chance there is of infection.

VITALAN contains retinol, - Tocopherol and a skin grade biocide held in an emollient base. The biocide in VITALAN will kill bacteria found on the udder and reduce the chance of infection in cuts, cracks and grazes. The vitamins in VITALAN promote rapid healing of cuts, cracks and grazes, and if used regularly will improve the skin tone of the udder.
